2. The Narrative — Return to Tradition

It all began with a simple post from Alon, the creator of Pump.fun:

> "Been exciting to see communities change their PFPs in unison again. Aside from it being a great way to raid, it shows people are returning to tradition & conviction plays. You don't change your PFP if you're looking to rotate tomorrow. Cults on Pump.fun looking good here."

And from that moment — Pumpfun Pepe ($PFP) was born.

This isn't just another meme coin. It's a movement of conviction. A return to the roots of crypto culture — where identity, unity, and community matter more than speculation.

$PFP holders change their profile pictures to the Normie Pepe as a sign of belonging. It's more than marketing — it's digital brotherhood. A cult-like force of like-minded frogs working together, raiding, and pushing the narrative forward.

We're not chasing hype. We're creating it.
